Moments . . .

The years spent at Eckerd College are more than years of educational study. They are years in which special friendships are built and encouraged to grow and last. Moments spent with friends at Eckerd are probably the most treasured memories of the future.

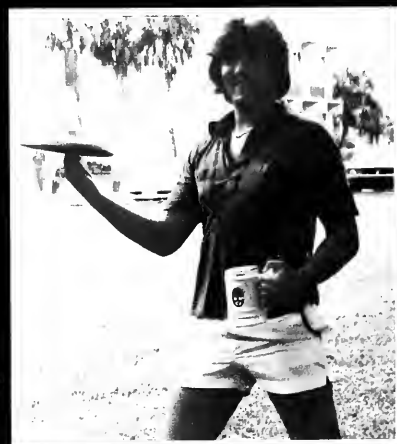

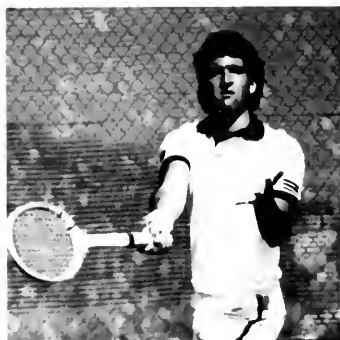

Fascinating!
Captivating!
I would suggest this informative

Halloween

On Oct. 30 Zeta Complex sponsored their annual Halloween Party. A highlight of the school year, it was a great success. Variety in costumes was evident with people dressed as Tylenol Bottles, a Sperm, Pebbles and Bam-bam, and terrorists. Also seen were the normal Halloween participants such as witches, clowns, cowboys, and gypsies. This year there was an added attraction: a haunted house sponsored by ELS.

... at Homelycoming

Homelycoming

Homelycoming is a tradition at Eckerd College. It starts off at noon with a parade of student built floats. Some of this year's entries were Garfield by Darwin House, The Suds Machine by Wilson House, and Rudolf by the Cheerleaders. At one o'clock the football games start. First: Blakeley vs. Alumni in this amazing flag football action. Blakeley remained victorious. Then it was East vs. West in the powderpuff game. The highlight of the day was the queen contest. The entrants this year were extra special. The title of queen was awarded to the Douglas House entry, Miss Bambi (Greg McWhirter) escorted by Marsha Wildy.

December 4, 1982

On the Eckerd College campus, Christmas is a special time for all. This year the season started off during Homelycoming. "Under the Mistletoe" was the theme for the dance. The last Friday before finals was a Christmas Celebration: starting with a chapel service, where students and faculty and friends gathered, and heard Eckerd's own version of "Twas the Night before Christmas," then they proceeded to Kappa Zeta field, caroling. Of course Santa was there along with Local foster children invited by ECOS. Also, ECOS made up a batch of hot buttered rum, and cocoa for those who did not want to imbibe.
